

Alaska

Alaska General Comments:

- The Cold Regions Test Center remains in Alaska while improving efficiency of operations and enhancing personnel safety by moving to Ft Greely.
- Civilian Personnel Operations Centers are consolidated at Ft Huachuca to reduce excess capacity, and achieve manpower savings through elimination of duplicate functions with a personnel reduction of less than 300 people.

Ft Richardson

BRAC 2005 Recommendation:

BRAC 2005 has a minimal impact at Ft. Richardson. The Army intends to realign Fort Richardson's garrison functions under Elmendorf Air Force Base and transfer CPOC functions to a consolidated center at Ft. Huachuca, AZ.

Gains:

- Validated the temporary stationing of an Infantry BCT

Losses:

- Installation management functions to Elmendorf Air Force Base
- Civilian Personnel Office

Ft Wainwright

BRAC 2005 Recommendation:

The Army realigns Fort Wainwright by relocating the Cold Regions Test Center (CRTC) headquarters from Fort Wainwright to Fort Greely.

Gains:

- None

Losses:

- Cold Regions Test Center (CRTC) headquarters to Ft Greely

Ft Greely

Gains:

- Cold Regions Test Center (CRTC) from Ft Wainwright

Losses:

- None